WHAT IS A CULTURE OF LIFE?

Culture is the way in which men and women in a community mold or shape a particular way of relating to nature, to each other and to God, thus establishing a typical style of human coexistence.

One of the primary values of the Culture of Life is respect for human life from its beginning at conception until its natural end. When a culture is capable of protecting and encouraging this vision of mankind through its political, social, economic and legal structures, it can be called a culture of life.

Building such a culture not only requires collaboration of society's leaders, but it is also a duty and a right of all Christians.

SHARE WHAT YOUR COUNCIL IS DOING TO BUILD A CULTURE OF LIFE

We want this monthly newsletter to be an opportunity for councils to share the good work that they are doing to build a Culture of Life. Please send us an email telling us what your council is doing and send us pictures. Email us at smistretta2@cox.net. We want your council highlighted in the next issue!

YOUR FIRST STOP FOR PRO-LIFE RESOURCES IN LOUISIANA

Louisiana is one of the more pro-life states in the union. That is no accident, and continuous efforts are needed to avoid losing ground. While the attacks on the human person are global, we should start our efforts locally. There is no better place to look for help than Louisiana Right to Life (<http://www.prolifelouisiana.org/>). Their web site includes a number of helpful resources and their staff is ready to help you. They also provide pro-life speakers and presentations, free of charge, for your council meetings, banquets, and other events. I encourage all councils to contact Louisiana Right to Life and find out how they can help you build a Culture of Life in your community.

CULTURE OF LIFE STORIESWHY CHARLIE GARD'S LIFE WAS WORTH FIGHTING FOR

Rep. Brad Wenstrup, R-OH
Via Louisiana Right to Life

Beaurecrats Should Not Stand in the Way of Finding Cures

Five grueling months went by as Chris Gard and Connie Yates battled with the U.K. courts for the right to fight for their son's life. (Last) week, they withdrew their petition seeking to bring Charlie to the U.S. for experimental treatment.

The fight for little Charlie's life caught the attention of the world, and now commentators and talking heads are busy casting blame. The case can be made that the delay caused his death. At the very least, the drawn-out court battle deprived Charlie's parents of the opportunity to see whether experimental treatment might have saved his life.

"A whole lot of time has been wasted," Ms. Yates said, through tears. "We are sorry we could not save you."

Regardless of blame, a little boy has lost his only chance at life. The heart-wrenching truth is that thousands of children around the globe die every day, for a myriad of reasons. But that does not lighten the weight of this death. The individual is what defines our humanity. Charlie's short life is a reminder that every human life - no matter how great or small, young or old - has inherent dignity. Every life is worth fighting for.

And fight Charlie's parents did: They raised more than $1.6 million to pay for their son to receive experimental treatment in the United States. They advocated fiercely. They refused to give up hope. In response, a renowned U.S. medical center offered to admit Charlie Gard and provide him with an experimental treatment. Rep. Trent Franks and I introduced legislation to expedite the process of bringing Charlie and his parents to the U.S. in order for them to pursue their last, best hope for their son's life.

Other members of Congress brought forward similar pieces of legislation. My friend Jaime Herrera Beutler, a congresswoman representing a district in Washington State, shared her own story of fighting for her unborn baby's life after the child was diagnosed with Potter Syndrome, a condition that develops in utero when no kidneys form. Her doctor told her that the condition was 100 percent fatal and suggested abortion as the next step. However, Jamie and her husband did not lose faith. They found a doctor who was willing to try an experimental treatment. It was successful, and today Jaime's daughter Abigail is 4 years old.

This is personal for me as well. When my little sister, Amy, was diagnosed with leukemia as an adult, the doctors told her that the only real cure would be a bone-marrow transplant. The insurance company refused coverage, though, on the grounds that it was an experimental treatment. Amy fought the company and successfully attained partial coverage, while paying the rest herself. We did the bone-marrow transplant, on her doctor's advice.

Today, 23 years later, Amy is married and the mother of two beautiful children.

My sister's doctor and Abigail's doctors were fighting for the lives of their patients. In contrast, Great Ormond Street Hospital was advocating for permission not only to withdraw treatment but also to block Charlie's parents from taking him to get treatment in the U.S. The hospital bureaucrats argued that the experimental treatment was not what Charlie's doctors deemed to be in his "best interest."

This is a far cry from past medical cases in which doctors have interceded in order to provide a child with treatment over a parent's wishes - with the justification of saving the child's life. In Charlie's case, it was the opposite. A little boy was being ordered to die because a third party, overriding the wishes of the parents, believed it could determine that immediate death was what was best for him.

The effect of any case like this ripple far beyond a single life. Not only would experimental treatment have provided the only chance to improve Charlie's condition, it also could have offered the opportunity for Charlie to increase the chance of recovery for others suffering from this condition in the future. A cure begins with one.

Charlie Gard's brave fight inspired individuals across the globe to join in his battle for life, for hope, and for cures. That will be his enduring legacy. His life should serve as a reminder that these principles must be the basis for any successful health-care system. As we debate health care here in the U.S., let us remember that any reforms we implement should be centered on improving health, preventing illness, valuing life, and striving for breakthroughs in treatments and cures. We should be encouraging - not inhibiting - innovation and experimentation in order to bring new cures and better care to the next generation.

Looking ahead, Charlie's parents hope to establish a foundation to ensure that Charlie's voice "continues to be heard." As we stand with the family, let both our nations be reminded of the risk incurred when our health-care systems are endowed with ultimate authority to determine which lives are unworthy of being lived and who may be denied their own fight for survival.

ULTRASOUND FOR GIANNA CENTER

Debbie Shinskie, Director of the Respect Life Office of the Archdiocese of New Orleans

The Gianna Center of the Gulf South is still currently in need of an ultrasound machine. In order to receive the matching funds from the Knights of Columbus to purchase their ultrasound machine, they need to raise $32,000. This ultrasound machine is an integral part of the treatment of infertility as well as tool that plays a vital role in encouraging abortion-minded women to keep their babies. To make a donation to the Knights of Columbus for the Gianna Center's ultrasound machine, contact Steve Hart at 504-615-1303 or heartfore@bellsouth.net.

ULTRASOUND FOR
WOMAN'S NEW LIFE CENTER

The Woman's New Life Center is located directly adjacent to the Delta abortion mill in Baton Rouge. The ability to show pregnant women their child in the womb has a huge influence on their decision to not have an abortion. Therefore, this is a critical part of their pro-life work. However, the machine is outdated and it is unable to provide clients with clear and accurate pictures of the baby.

Council 8147 in Gonzales will participate in the Ultrasound Initiative to obtain the ultrasound machine. They are looking for additional councils to pledge $1,000 or more to help raise the required amount of money. Their goal is to raise, $20,000.

If your council is willing to accept the challenge, please contact Ralph Roger (rroger@dow.com, 713-306-6984). Thank you for your support!

ULTRASOUND FOR GRETNNA CENTER

The Community Center for Life in Gretna provides pregnancy testing, confidential counseling, pre-natal and postpartum classes, educational literature, baby items, ultrasounds and an emergency shelter.

Their ultrasound machine no longer works, and it needs to be replaced. This instrument is essential to their pro-life work. The cost of a new machine is estimated to be around $33,500. This cost would include the machine, the tools associated with operating the machine, installation, training on use and also shipping.

Archbishop Blenk Council 1905 in Gretna is leading the effort to obtain a new ultrasound machine through the Knights of Columbus Ultrasound Initiative. Their council is asking other councils in the New Orleans area to make a donation to this effort. If you can help, please contact Glenn Esteve (gfe1905@yahoo.com, 504-405-2576) or Don Caskey (dcaskey53@yahoo.com, 504-884-0101).

ULTRASOUND FOR NORTH BATON ROUGE

John Hauler (Council 9016)

Barbara Thomas, Director of the North Baton Rouge Women's Help Center, sent a message to me asking for help in obtaining a new ultrasound machine. The one that they have is outdated, and she says the company will only service it for the next year or so. I know one council by itself cannot afford to do this, but I am putting out a call for help.

If your council would like to obtain an ultrasound machine for this center through the Knights of Columbus Ultrasound Initiative, then please contact John Hauler at jehauler@yahoo.com or call 504-812-8753.

CULTURE OF LIFE MONTHLY REPORT

Michael &amp; Catherine Abbate (Council 9623)

In August, Council 9623 Culture of Life chair couple sent e-mail note to the Louisiana US Senators to defund the Planned Parenthood Federation of America. The couple is also supporting the Catholics for Ken Cuccinelli program because Ken defends the unborn and the family. Later in August, the couple attended a peaceful and prayerful protest against the Planned Parenthood Facility in New Orleans.

ANOTHER DAY WITH WILSON AT THE ABORTION FACILITY

Shanon Snyder

Projects Director, New Orleans Right to Life

There were around a dozen women going into the facility this morning. Mostly young black women, of course. That demographic is always overrepresented at the facility, unfortunately. They outnumber white and hispanic women at least 4:1. Its just a crushing thing to watch. However, they're the most willing to stop and talk to us and take our literature.

One young black lady pulled in an Uber. She barreled out and I gave her some information as she went in. She came back out sobbing. I tried to talk to her, but from what I gathered she didn't want to go through with it and couldn't afford the procedure. I tried to catch her on the way out and offer to take her to the local pregnancy center, but she refused.

3 escorts were present today. They were cordial and not hostile, which was a nice change of pace. However, there was one psychotic woman who berated Wilson and I. She wasn't an escort, just some nondescript woman on the street. We'll call her Becky. Becky lives in the neighborhood.

Becky went on mocking my weight and Wilson's age and just saying really awful, hateful things. She screamed profanities and cursed at us from a safe distance, of course. Then, she walked about 200 yards away opposite of the clinic, and turned around and started up again. We didn't listen to her. Frankly, it was the closest thing to demonic I've ever seen. Obviously some deep self-hatred going on.

Later, as I was leaving, an escort stopped me. I'm a naturally defensive person, so immediately, my defenses were up and I was ready to go into persuasion mode. What she said surprised me, though. "You know, we're on opposite sides of this, but what that lady said was totally out of line and degrading. You're not less of person because we disagree on this. I'm sorry that happened."

I agreed with her and said we're both people with inherent dignity and that's why I'm out here: because I believe that everyone has equal worth and dignity including the unborn and their mothers. She shrugged. "That was just wrong, you know." Her name is Clarissa. I hope we have more conversations in the future. Who knows? Maybe she'll be converted to the pro-life side. She seems open to discussion, at least. I gave her some educational literature so maybe she'll be open to talking about it when I'm back out there next week. Pray for Clarissa that her heart will be changed.

Pray for the women we interacted with today and their babies. Thank you.

DINNER FOR LIFE

John and Elaine Hauler (Council 9016)

On Saturday, July 29th the Knights of Columbus of St. Maria Goretti parish hosted a Dinner For Life in New Orleans East. State Squires Chairman Kerry Williams of St. Maria Goretti and his brother Keith did an extraordinary job arranging the hall, a choir, and a fantastic dinner cooked up by Grand Knight Glenn Esteve and his crew from Archbishop Blenk Council 1905 in Gretna. The main speaker was Dr. Kathy Allen of Louisiana Right to Life Black Advocates for Life. A little over seventy people were in attendance, enjoying the presentations.

Pictured below is a group of Brother Knights who did the cooking as well as students from the PULSE Institute who helped set up the hall, served the meal, then cleaned up afterward. Please note that Keith and Kerry Williams are on the far left standing next to Glenn Esteve and his kitchen crew. On the extreme left are the six members from the PULSE Institute. Dr. Kathy Allen of Louisiana Black Advocates for Life is shown addressing the crowd, and the last is a picture shows the crowd.

PRO-LIFE CORNER

Don and Dee Caskey (Council 1905)

Brother Knights, the first deposit for the last of our four Baby Bottle Campaigns for Access Pregnancy Center was just deposited, and it was $669 in cash and checks with almost ten pounds of change. Thanks to Infant Jesus of Prague parish for their continued support. As the money trickles in, I will continue to update the numbers.

The Community Center for Life is closer to receiving the Archdiocesan approval for our campaign to raise money for a new ultrasound machine through the Ultrasound Initiative. I've already made six examples for the yard angels, and I am anxiously waiting for the green light. District Deputy Arthur Newby has been raising interest for support in the other councils during his regular council visits. Thank You Arthur!

When we go into production we will need assistance and the use of some power equipment, mainly table sanders and scroll saws. A surface planer might be of help. However, our ladies are not sitting idly by. They are planning a baby shower.

If anyone reading this newsletter wishes to learn a whole lot more about Quality of Life and Social Justice issues, and the programs offered within our Archdiocese, then please attend the Jazzed for Life event that will be held on September 9th starting at 9 AM at the University of Holy Cross in Algiers on the "BESTBANK." There is no fee to attend, but they need you to register at <https://respectlife.arch-no.org/jazzed-for-life>.

Yours in Christ,
Don and Dee Caskey

A PRO-LIFE PLEA

Wayne Gravois (Council 10080)

The Fourth Degree Assembly 419 in Baton Rouge is issuing a CHALLENGE to all Knights of Columbus Assemblies in Louisiana to promote local council participation in a Baby Bottle Campaign during the 40 Days for Life Campaign scheduled from September 27th to November 5th. The campaign date is international with more than 700 cities all over the world participating. The dates are set by the national 40 DFL organization.

To help promote the program, we are offering a one-time contribution of $100 to the first 6 councils that participate. This money can be used for the purchase of about 100 baby bottles. Most councils purchase their bottles from Heritage House (link).

Depending on the quantity purchased the cost of each bottle is about $1. I am told the average donation per bottle returned is $20. There is a blank tag on each one that the council can place their individual information. Our council is planning to start the campaign on Saturday October 30 and it probably will run for 4-5 weeks, finishing at least a week before the 40 days campaign ends so we can collect the returned bottles.

Of course, every council has to determine how to allocate the funds raised as they see fit. Our Assembly is suggesting that each council divide-up donations as follows: 25% to the purchase and/or maintenance of an ultrasound machine at a local pregnancy center, 25% to support high school students attending the March for Life in Washington D.C. in January, and 50% the council's pro-life projects and activities.

We also are planning to give out a Precious Feet lapel pin to every donor.

We hope that you will consider this worthwhile life saving cause. Please contact me at waynegravios@yahoo.com. May God continue to bless the work of the Knights of Columbus.

SPEAKING A LANGUAGE OF LIFE

Caitlin Thomas

In the Church's efforts to teach about the grave evil of assisted suicide and the threats it poses, we must use clear and vigorous language. And it is always, always important that we do so with love.

Assisted suicide is suicide. In the few states where it is legal, physicians willing to do so prescribe lethal drugs at the request of patients seeking the drugs to end their own lives. Proponents of assisted suicide use terms like "death with dignity" and "aid in dying." But these are misleading. They are the sickly-sweet phrases of a poisonous ideology that attacks our full dignity and worth as human beings.

These phrases go beyond word games and become flat-out contradictions carefully etched into law. In fact, every state law (and proposed bill) legalizing assisted suicide in this country follows Oregon's law, proclaiming, "the actions taken in accordance with [the law] shall not, for any purposes, constitute suicide [or] assisted suicide." So, according to the law itself, assisted suicide isn't assisted suicide? The only sensible response to this legal blustering must be something like this sentiment from a wise character in C.S. Lewis' The Great Divorce: "Every disease that submits to a cure shall be cured: but we will not call blue yellow to please those who insist on having jaundice."

We should not be seduced by slippery language into ignoring hard truths. The dying process can be painful, messy, full of uncertainty and difficult questions—just like life. But there is death with authentic dignity: dying at peace with God and our loved ones. Dying or terminally ill persons deserve the best care we have to offer, including appropriate treatment of symptoms and pain relief. There is a way to face this process with peace, not by hastening death, but by experiencing the support and loving care that our society should offer to those preparing for death. Assisted suicide, on the other hand, hurts the individual and the entire human family, sending a message that some lives are "completed" or not as valuable as others. We should kill the pain, not the patient.

Truth always walks hand-in-hand with love. It is not enough to say, "suicide is bad." We must also say,

"life is good"--especially when life is old, fragile, differently abled, so young and so small our eyes cannot see it, or of a different skin color or place of origin.

We should learn how to best love those who are close to death. We should pray for holy deaths for them and for ourselves, recognizing that Jesus brings us to new life with Him through His death and resurrection. We should pray for the grace to build a true culture of life. And we should affirm the goodness of life in all that we do and say.

2017-2018 USCCB RESPECT LIFE PROGRAM THEME: BE NOT AFRAID!

NEW materials are produced each year by USCCB to help Catholics understand, value, and become engaged with supporting the dignity of the human person, and therefore the gift of every person's life.

Materials are developed for use in parishes, schools, and faith-based ministries, but are also suitable for individual use. The program begins anew each October (Respect Life Month) and continues through the following September.

The new brochures developed for the years' program include:

- What to Do When a Friend is Considering Abortion
- How to Build a Culture of Life
- Top Reasons to Oppose Assisted Suicide
- Catholic Considerations for Our Earthly Passing
- Death Penalty: Catholic Q & A
- Understanding Conscience

All pastors will receive program materials sent directly from the USCCB. Parishes may then decide how many brochures, posters and flyers to purchase. Also included is a resource guide with suggestions on implementing the program. Parish Respect Life Coordinators will be notified when the materials are sent to pastors.

Sidewalk Advocates for Life posted this video on Facebook. This is the inspirational story of the closing of the Bossier City, LA abortion facility -- in short, how a man shut down the abortion facility in his community through the power of prayer and peaceful outreach! To God be the Glory! And a HUGE thank you to Chris and his amazing team!

A shout out to our dear friends at 40 Days for Life who aided Chris in building a peaceful prayer vigil every Spring and Fall, as well!

We rejoice with you, Chris!

(Note: Chris Davis is a District Deputy and Culture of Life Director for his council).

QUOTES OF THE MONTH

“The moral gravity of procured abortion is apparent in all its truth if we recognize that we are dealing with murder and, in particular, when we consider the specific elements involved. The one eliminated is a human being at the very beginning of life. No one more absolutely innocent could be imagined. In no way could this human being ever be considered an aggressor, much less an unjust aggressor! He or she is weak, defenceless, even to the point of lacking that minimal form of defence consisting in the poignant power of a newborn baby's cries and tears. The unborn child is totally entrusted to the protection and care of the woman carrying him or her in the womb. And yet sometimes it is precisely the mother herself who makes the decision and asks for the child to be eliminated, and who then goes about having it done.

It is true that the decision to have an abortion is often tragic and painful for the mother, insofar as the decision to rid herself of the fruit of conception is not made for purely selfish reasons or out of convenience, but out of a desire to protect certain important values such as her own health or a decent standard of living for the other members of the family. Sometimes it is feared that the child to be born would live in such conditions that it would be better if the birth did not take place. Nevertheless, these reasons and others like them, however serious and tragic, can never justify the deliberate killing of an innocent human being.”

Taken from Pope Saint John Paul II's encyclical letter Evangelium Vitae

PRAYER OF THE MONTHPrayer to Christ Unborn

Dear Lord Jesus in the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary, before your birth You filled the unborn Baptist with the joy of the Holy Spirit.

Inspire us to see You in every unborn child.

Grant us the perseverance to defend vulnerable human life from abortion, abandonment, experimentation, and all violations.

Fill us with reverence for the moment of your Incarnation in Nazareth when the Word became flesh. Amen.
